

Mrs. Imhoff's Newsletter

What a great first three days we have had! It has been amazing to see everyone's smiling faces again. Your kiddos have learned all about new routines this week. I don't expect them to have everything memorized just yet. It will take us a few weeks to get into a good routine.

AID- Mrs. Wirths and Mrs. Lorenz will be in our classroom in the afternoons to provide extra help and assistance wherever needed. The students will be at their reading centers during this time working on independent work. They will help answer any questions and aid in however they can. This is a time to help create hard independent workers. They will have weekly task they must complete in class or it will be sent home as homework.

Homework- Please check your child planner each night to make sure they are completing the homework asked of them. Reading 20 minutes each night is part of their daily homework. This can be done by your child reading independently or reading with a buddy. Planners and blue homework folder should go home and come back to school each day.

AR- 2nd grade will STAR test next week and have goals following shortly after completing their test. 1st will test around the beginning of September. This is so we can do some reviewing and learn a few more critical skills. Also, we will have our new early literacy AR program up and running by then to help quiz them in more detail for their age.

Specials- We love having a large class at St. Joe.! However, to make better use of our specials times we are going to split the two classes for technology and art. 1st will have Art Wednesday's and technology Thursdays like before. 2nd will now have art Thursday's and technology Wednesday's.

Have a great weekend!
